PROPOSED CHANGES TO IAC VEIN CENTER STANDARDS NOW OPEN FOR PUBLIC COMMENT
THIS COMMENT PERIOD IS NOW CLOSED

NOVEMBER 3, 2014 | In keeping with the IAC’s continued commitment to streamlining and simplifying the accreditation process, we are pleased to announce that the public now has the opportunity to comment on proposed changes to the IAC Standards for Vein Center Accreditation.

The Standards are reviewed periodically by the IAC Vein Center Board of Directors and revised as needed. Once approved by the Board of Directors, proposed Standards are posted to the IAC website for a 60-day public comment period. These proposed Standards include changes to current Standards, the removal of current Standards and/or the addition of new Standards.

Beginning November 3rd, 2014, the public may visit the IAC website at intersocietal.org/iac/comment_period.htm to comment on any of the proposed Standards until January 3rd, 2015. In order to provide comments, the IAC Comment Form must be completed and submitted electronically by the provided deadline. The IAC does not accept comments that are e-mailed.

To Submit A Comment On Proposed Standards:

1. Visit the IAC website at intersocietal.org/iac/comment_period.htm;
2. Scroll down to the section for Vein Center Standards Available for Comment;
3. Select the proposed Standard on which to comment;
4. A window will expand with the description of the Standard and the proposed change on the left;
5. On the right, fill in your name and comment in the boxes provided;
6. Hit submit.

At the close of the comment period, the IAC Vein Center Board of Directors will review any submitted comments, consider modifications as needed and vote for final approval of the Standards. Facilities are notified of changes to the published Standards, and the most current version of the Standards can be viewed or printed from the IAC Vein Center website at intersocietal.org/vein/main/vein_standards.htm.
